

Sermon Notes
Late Summer Psalms
Psalm 100

Big Idea: In Psalm 100 we see an invitation and command to praise, admire, and applaud God for His character and work as creator, redeemer, provider, and sustainer of the world.

The Psalms are, for the Christian, a _____ for our response to God.

The Psalms are often organized into various categories based on their _____ and characteristics (lament, thanksgiving, wisdom, imprecatory, and praise).

A _____ is a bold declaration of God's glorious name and nature, with shouts, clapping, and other outward expressions of praise, publicly given to God.

All the earth are invited to - and even more than that, are commanded to- _____ the Lord.

Creation proclaims the glory of the Lord by its very _____.

The only part of God's creation that rejects praise to Him is chief and crown of His creation: _____ - you and I.

Our public gathered worship is _____.

Worshipping God begins with a _____ by God's people to regularly and consistently gather together to proclaim Him and make Him known.

Worship to God is service to _____ and service to God is worship to God.

Our worship to God has to do not only with what we say but how we _____.

We must _____ God - this is the spring board for our joyful noise, glad service, and coming to the Lord.

The Lord God is not some distant, far off, disconnected, 'man in the sky' - He is your very _____.

God is the one who made us and the one who makes a _____ for us to be His people and become the sheep of His pasture.

Access and _____ to God is now ours because of the work of God through Christ - to bring us to Himself!

Our motivation to make a joyful noise, to give the Lord what He is due in gathering and coming into His presence, and serving and uniting all of our life toward and for Him with gladness is who God is and who God is for _____.
